

Appointment

Lee Foxon has been appointed an engineering technician with Grange Moor-based highways consultancy Sanderson Associates. Mr

Foxon (right), is a member of one of the detailed design teams, where he will work on major highways and development projects. He was previously employed by a housing company. Sanderson Associates employs 40 staff and works on highway, transportation and water engineering projects across Britain.

■ SPONSORS: Carl France (left) and Alison France, of Sanderson Associates, with Town commercial director Sean Jarvis

Highways experts sponsorship shortcut

A COMPANY providing expert advice on traffic matters has signed a sponsorship deal with Town.

Highways engineers Sanderson Associates is the new the football club's first and away team shorts for the 2009-10 season.

The deal reinforces the company's strong local roots. It was founded in in 1987 at a small office in Holmfirth. It now has 40 staff and operates from its headquarters in Grange Moor.

This is its first foray into sports sponsorship – and is the ninth new business to become involved with Huddersfield Town .

Alison France, managing director of Sanderson Associates, said: "We are extremely pleased to be involved with a club like Huddersfield Town."